Bachelor’s Degree Program
ACCOUNTING

ABOUT THIS DEGREE PROGRAM

Accounting is the language of business, vital to understanding and communicating critical financial information, such as profits and losses, assets and liabilities, and cash flow. Earning a bachelor’s degree in Accounting at DeVry University can help you develop the accounting skills needed to work in many business areas and industries, such as finance, management, entertainment, operations management or forensic accounting.

DeVry University’s Bachelor’s in Accounting degree program can help prepare you for the workplace by teaching you key business concepts and tactics, while sharpening your communication and interpersonal skills. Our curriculum can help you understand the core concepts of accounting, why it is so fundamental to businesses, and how using accounting can help businesses operate, perform and grow more efficiently. Our coursework includes an introduction to business and technology, as well as the study of data analysis, database management, and budgeting and forecasting.

Through our TechPath approach, we’ve put technology at the core of our programs in business, tech and health – including this program. Every TechPath class you take revolves around a unique learning rubric developed at DeVry. We call it People-Process-Data-Devices or P2D2. You’ll gain real skills in collaboration, be able to adapt to new structures, and be comfortable working with data and a wide spectrum of tech-forward tools. P2D2 is a key component of what makes TechPath a smart, new way of getting the knowledge you need to be ready to hit the ground running in the way successful companies work today.
