Bachelor's Degree Program | Justice Administration
SPECIALIZATION: POLICING

ABOUT THIS SPECIALIZATION

Police professionals ensure public safety by maintaining order, responding to emergencies, protecting people and property, enforcing laws and promoting good community relations.

Typical tasks include: preparing reports, documenting incidents and activities, and pursuing and arresting suspects and criminals. They may be called on to testify in court to present evidence or act as a witness, or to supervise and coordinate the investigation of cases. At the management level, police professionals supervise and coordinate the activities of a police force.

Graduates of DeVry University's Justice Administration degree program with a specialization in Policing may consider careers including, but not limited to, the following:

- Detective/Investigator
- Police/Patrol Officer
- Public Safety Officer
- Security Officer
- State Trooper

Applicants for jobs in the criminal justice field may be subject to pre-employment screenings such as, but not limited to, criminal background checks, drug and/or alcohol testing, physical and/or psychological examinations and credit checks. Unsatisfactory screening results may disqualify an applicant for a position in the criminal justice field.

Additional government-required training programs or years of relevant experience may be necessary to obtain employment in this field.
