Our goal is making education more affordable

At DeVry University and its Keller Graduate School of Management, we support your ambitions for your future with a variety of ways to manage college tuition costs.

$53 million* in available awards
When you're ready to look into ways to finance your college education, it's good to know that DeVry has $53 million in merit and need-based scholarships, grants and other forms of assistance available to qualifying students this school year – that's assistance you don't have to pay back.

Credit for what you've done
We can help you minimize costs by maximizing your qualifying transfer credits. We'll also explore whether credit for prior learning or corporate training may be available to you.

Employer tuition reimbursement
Many employers offer tuition reimbursement to their employees to help offset education costs. Ask your human resources department about any education benefits available to you.

Group tuition savings
Military: U.S. military personnel serving in any of the five branches of the U.S. Armed Forces and their spouses are eligible for savings with our military tuition rates for undergraduate and graduate students.

International Students: The American Pathways for International Scholars program provides group tuition rates for students studying online from their home country.

Corporate Partnerships: DeVry provides group tuition pricing to more than 400 organizations. For another form of potential savings, ask your human resources department if your employer is a partner and what savings may be available to you.

Your personal financial plan
We're ready to work with you to help you discover the range of financial aid options you may qualify for at DeVry University, from work-study programs and student loans to scholarships, grants and more.

Whether you're a graduating high school student or an adult learner, a transfer student or a veteran working toward your next goal, you may be eligible for various scholarships and other financial awards. At DeVry, you have access to dedicated team of student support advisors, including financial aid support, from day one.

* In the 2016-2017 school year (7/1/16 to 6/30/17), DeVry will make $53 million available for scholarships, grants and institutional aid to new and continuing students who meet merit and need-based qualifications. Subject to approval, use requirements, program level and availability of funds. For full details, visit devry.edu/scholarships.

 Qualifications vary. See reverse for specific offerings and eligibility requirements.

FOLLOW THESE EASY STEPS TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF SCHOLARSHIPS, GRANTS OR OTHER INSTITUTIONAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS:

1. VISIT OUR WEBSITE
   Our scholarship webpage, devry.edu/scholarships, offers detailed information about our scholarship and grant programs.

2. USE OUR SCHOLARSHIP SEARCH TOOL
   To help you search for scholarships and grants offered by organizations outside the University, go to devry.edu/scholarships.

3. GET ASSISTANCE
   Our Student Support Advisors or Student Finance Consultants can guide you toward appropriate scholarships, grants and other institutional assistance programs you may be eligible for and help you gather any information needed to qualify for each program.

4. APPLY EARLY
   Applying early will enable you to take the most advantage of programs that may be available to you.

5. STAY INFORMED
   You can track the financial award process through your student portal and email notifications from the University, as well as by working with your Student Support Advisor. Also, make sure you understand the continuing eligibility criteria for your award so that you maintain eligibility throughout your studies.

6. ACCEPT WHAT BENEFITS YOU MOST
   If you are eligible for more than one institutional scholarship, grant or other institutional assistance program, you'll be awarded the one that benefits you most.

7. UNDERSTAND YOUR SCHOLARSHIP BENEFITS
   Your Student Support Advisor can help you understand how much tuition your institutional aid covers each semester, so you can create a financial plan and education budget that works for you.
