

DeVry University does not make any recommendations regarding lender selection. The lenders are listed in alphabetical order, and therefore do not indicate any sort of rank or preference. Students are encouraged to review each lender's terms and conditions before selecting a lender. Lender terms and eligibility criteria sometimes change, and while all of the lenders listed below currently provide loans to DeVry students, they may not always do so. Students may choose to borrow from one of the lenders listed below or from any other lender.

The lenders listed below have made loans to DeVry University students in the past, and continue to do so as of the date listed below.
