Assessment Results:

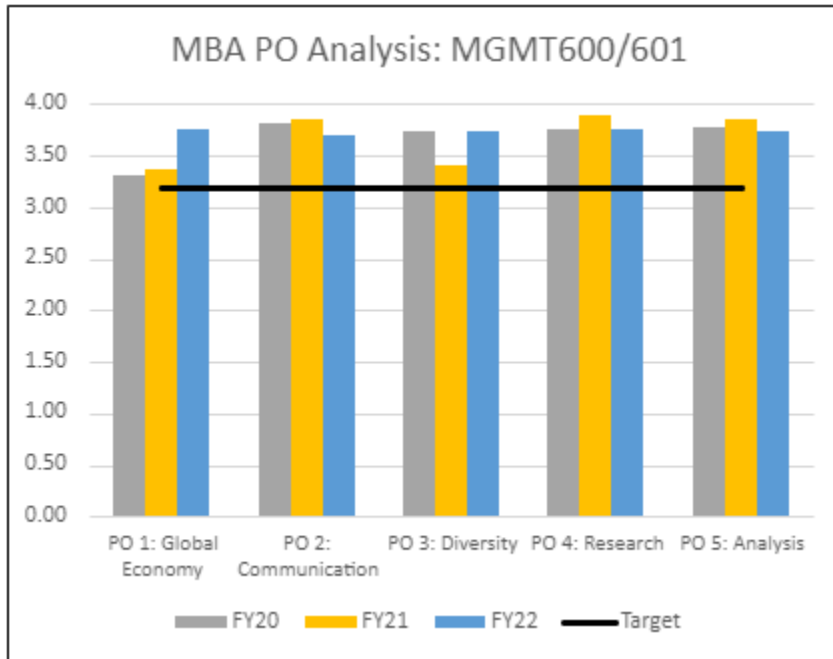

DeVry University uses course-level assessments to analyze program learning outcomes (PO). DeVry University uses the Learning Mastery Assessment (LMA), Instructure's Canvas Learning Management System as a central platform for collecting, storing, managing and analyzing the DeVry's College of Business & Management and its Keller Graduate School of Management POs. Faculty Curriculum Assessment Committees have identified the courses for assessing POs. To date, sufficient data points have been collected in the assessment of PO learning outcomes to allow the Faculty Curriculum Committees to create improvement recommendations.

The LMA internal benchmarks used to determine the need for curricular improvement based on student performance are 3.20 out of 4.00 at the undergraduate and graduate level. POs assessed at a level more than 10% (or 0.40) below the metric, are further analyzed for course-specific improvement.

The following charts are examples of course-level assessments for the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (BSBA) and the Master of Business Administration (MBA) programs. The charts include data points for the program learning outcomes and allow for longitudinal analysis of student performance across multiple years.

The charts below show DeVry students' scores exceeding the benchmarks for all program outcomes. DeVry University will continue to monitor the assessment results and revisit the benchmarks to help improve student learning. Faculty will continue to review assessment data and more curriculum changes have been recommended and will be applied.
