ABOUT THIS DEGREE PROGRAM

The Master of Business Administration program (Master of Business Administration in Management program in New York) blends management theory with real-world applications, emphasizing practical skills and concepts businesses demand from management professionals. Providing a comprehensive business education, the program is designed to enable students to develop management expertise and advance their knowledge and skills in areas such as corporate management, directing cross-disciplinary endeavors and integrating functions across the business enterprise.

HUMAN RESOURCES CONCENTRATION

If you’re pursuing a career in human resources, keeping your competencies and resume up to date is important. Our MBA with a concentration in Human Resources is designed to help you hone your skills in areas such as planning, staffing, rewarding and developing talent, and cultivating an organization’s people and culture. In addition to your focused area of study, you can gain presentation skills and experience in corporate-level communication, and learn management theory and business acumen.

Graduates of DeVry University’s Keller Graduate School of Management Business Administration program concentrating in Human Resources may consider management and leadership roles in the areas of employee compensation, labor relations and other areas of employee analysis and management.
